

Join us for our Sensory Friendly Performance, featuring two performances by the NSO's Atlantic String Quartet, in partnership with the School of Music at Memorial University and supported by VOCM Cares.

Date:	Saturday, March 23, 2019
Times:	2:00PM & 3:30PM (approximately 45 minutes in length)
Location:	Suncor Hall, School of Music, MUN (park in main lot-arm will be up)
Cost:	Free (call us to register for your preferred session)

It's About our Guests

We understand the experience of coming to see a show begins long before arriving to the theatre. Going to new places can be scary – especially when you don't know what to expect. For our first ever Sensory Friendly Performance the Newfoundland Symphony Orchestra really wants to welcome you to a safe, friendly, and judgment-free environment where YOU can be YOU.

Here is what we are offering as part of this Sensory Friendly Performance:

- Professionally trained staff and volunteers
- Adaptation and reduction of sudden changes in light and sound
- House lights are kept on slightly to allow for safety and freedom of movement
- Flexible and limited seating arrangements to allow room for guests with spatial issues
- Quiet lobby area for breaks
- Pre-concert Information Package for families, teachers, and caregivers

Questions or to register

Call
Jennifer or
Lynn Ann:
722-4441

Meet the Atlantic String Quartet

Nancy Case-Oates (violin)
Heather Kao (violin)
Theo Weber (cello)
Kate Read (viola)

